Max Walker joins Team NAB AFL Auskick 2023

Max Walker, from South Australia's Rostrevor College Auskick Centre, is all smiles after being announced as the third Team NAB AFL Auskick recruit for 2023.

A new-look initiative this year, Team NAB AFL Auskick calls for registered participants of the NAB AFL Auskick program to enter for their chance to join the team along with an Auskick mate of their choice, who will get to experience the awesomeness with them.

Eleven lucky winners will be announced bi-weekly during Seven Network's AFL match broadcast, with Max being the third lucky Auskicker to join the team, accompanied by his chosen nominee - his Auskick teammate, James Gill.

Max and James met at Auskick two years ago and love playing footy together. They are great mates and are excited for the opportunity to both represent Team NAB AFL Auskick. Max and James will join the other lucky Team NAB AFL Auskick recruits, including first round picks Dexter Sourivong and cousin Sebastian, at the MCG in Melbourne for a once-in-a-lifetime Grand Final experience that will stay with them forever, including presenting the winning grand final team their premiership medals.

A big Port Adelaide fan, Max is absolutely football mad and says he “loves to take species, especially jumping on Mummy or Daddy’s back on the trampoline or grass to take the perfect grab.”

Just when you’d think it couldn’t get any better, Max also has the chance to be crowned Team NAB AFL Auskick Captain which will be announced during Toyota AFL Grand Final Week.

The lucky Team NAB AFL Auskick Captain will also take home a whopping $5,000 thanks to NAB, plus have an AFL and AFLW player as their personal footy mentor in 2024.
